

2018

Teaching About East Asia Workshop

6 Day Workshop

Orientation: Monday, May 21 | 5 - 7:30 p.m. (dinner included)

Summer: Monday - Friday, June 25 - 29 | 8:30 a.m. - 3:30 p.m.

303 International Center, Michigan State University

Light breakfast and light lunch included each day.

Course Description

The National Consortium for Teaching Asia (NCTA) program targets 6-12th grade teachers.

This 30 hour course will provide an overview of the pre-modern history and culture of China, Japan, and Korea with special emphasis on pedagogy, best practices, classroom applications, and resources.

Benefits

- Free workshop
- $500 teacher stipend upon successful completion
- $300 in free teaching resources
- 30 SCECH credit hours upon successful completion of the course
- Continuing professional development opportunities, including international study tours

Registration forms and instructions at asia.isp.msu.edu/tea#TEA

*Register by May 4th - space is limited.

Contact

Jennifer Pippin, Outreach Coordinator
Asian Studies Center, Michigan State University
pippinj1@msu.edu or (517) 353-1680

MSU Workshop Presenters

- Dr. Ethan Segal, Department of History
- Dr. Kyle Greenwalt, College of Education

This program is sponsored by the Indiana University NCTA National Coordinating Site at the East Asian Studies Center and the MSU Asian Studies Center.